Sharp thigh sword	Pg. 160 By drawing the sword and raging to kill her which shows him overpowering <sup>being violent.</sup>	The sword shows his masculinity. He is overpowering her.
Bag of winds	Pg. 15a This is a bag full of distraction. It has very strong winds.	The bag represents man trying to control nature.
Circe's shining doors	Pg. 158 The A way lure them into her power.	By bringing the men into her house it's another way to get dominance over them.
Circe's long wand	158, 160 A tool to control overpower people.	She uses this to control the men and put them in their place.
Fast Black Ship	158. A safe haven for the men, a way to escape.	This is Odysseus's favorite thing. He's very attached. It's like a way to escape everything.
Potion of malignant drugs	Pg. 158 They make you forgetful and put you in a trance.	The woman wanted dominance over the men but turning them into pigs.
Batman's Boomerang	A Boomerang that's shaped like a bat. Sort of. Because obviously he's Batman.	Batman doesn't have "super powers" so having the Boomerang helps him have a advantage over the villains.
