

Final Thesis: The portrayal of women in The Odyssey shows that the Greeks feared women because they only understand because physical and not emotional things, and they fear what they don't understand.

